Report Highlights:

Post assisted importers to clear 44.6 tons of Cheeses, worth U.S. $ 173,200 that was detained at the port of San Antonio due to missing required labeling information

General Information:

Post assisted importers to clear 44.6 tons of Cheeses, worth U.S. $ 173,200 that was detained at the port of San Antonio due to missing required labeling information on the boxes that are required to trace the product back to its origin in case of a recall. Post worked with FDA and AMS to clarify the missing information and to provide assurances of compliance to the Chilean authorities. Once the authorities were satisfied with the clarifications the shipment was released.

The information about the U.S. exporter is as follows:
